

COMPASS Research Masterclass Series

‘Complex interventions: From theory to implementation’

The COMPASS Collaborative in Edinburgh hosts a series of events for academics, researchers, clinicians and policy makers interested in Complex Interventions and the MRC Framework.

‘Complex Interventions using eHealth and Social Media’

SPEAKER: Prof Alex Jadad (Centre for Global eHealth Innovation, Toronto)

CHAIR: Prof Aziz Sheikh (University of Edinburgh)

Prof Alex Jadad is chief innovator and founder of the Centre for Global eHealth Innovation (Toronto) and has a general interest in improving health, and wellness for all, through information and communication technologies (ICTs).

He leads the ‘People, Health equity and Innovation (PHI) Group’ focusing on innovative efforts to level the playing field for disadvantaged members of society, with emphasis on youth leadership development, supportive care (for people with chronic conditions, terminal illness or advanced age) and multicultural issues. Further information:

<http://www.ehealthinnovation.org/ajadad>

DATE: Thursday the 4th November 2010

VENUE: Sydney Smith Lecture Theatre, 2nd floor Medical School, Teviot Place, Edinburgh

TIME: 12:30 – 13:00 Lunch
13:00 – 14:00 Presentation

Please confirm your attendance by email: annet.kleiboer@ed.ac.uk